

Last Minute Policy

We have a policy on last minute classes: If you have not pre-registered for a class and decide to come at the last minute, we are happy to have you join the class providing there is a place available. This works on a first come first served basis. The fee for these last minute drop-in classes is 25€; payable in cash or check before the beginning of the class. Please, no late comers as it would interrupt an ongoing class. If the class is a museum visit we require that you arrive 15 minutes before the beginning of the class at the meeting place described in our course descriptions in or to register with Hannelore. Museum entrance fees are not included in the course fee. Exact change for the group ticket is appreciated.

Please call ahead to see if there is a place available:
